The Tropico Inter-urban Sentinel

To do a certain amount of useful work every day, and not trouble about either the past or the future, is the highest wisdom.

A better country than the San Fernando Valley to live in may have been made, but has not yet been discovered.

RAINS WERE WELCOME

SEASON'S RAINFALL BRINGS JOY TO HEARTS OF SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

A BUMPER CROP IS NOW ASSURED. SOME DAMAGE DONE HERE

Jupiter Pluvius worked overtime the past week, and as a result the San Fernando Valley rainfall chart shows a big gain over the preceding year and a bumper crop is assured.

Southern Pacific Rain Gauge

Jan. 22—Total for season	10.86
Jan. 26—Total for season	14.83
Jan. 26—Total for storm	3.97
Jan. 26—Total for 48 hours	3.70
Jan. 26—Total for 24 hours	2.50
Total for season, Jan. 22, 1913	2.62
Total for entire season	12.10

The above report goes to show that up to date Tropico has received 14.83 inches, instead of 2.62 inches, as reported for last season.

with a normal rainfall of 12 inches. Over normal and according to the weather man, more coming. The rains are worth uncalculated money to not only every portion of San Fernando Valley, but to every portion of Southern California. That feeling that has existed since last fall will now be lifted and with a bumper crop assured for all localities, some of the big things will be coming toward Tropico.

The Southern Pacific reports a bad came-in at the Newhall tunnel and mails were delayed for many hours on account of it. Reports come in from the river bed that what is usually a flat is now a rushing torrent. New roads built in and around Griffith Park are badly washed out. The ground, however, has absorbed a large share and everything is benefited withal.

The heavy rains and high winds have wrought havoc in many sections of Tropico. Trees in Forest Lawn cemetery suffered from the severe winds, some being uprooted and toppled over. A passer-by narrowly escaped serious injury by a falling limb in the Tropico school yard.

STATE SOCIETIES GATHER

ANNUAL PICNICS OF THE VARIOUS STATES ARE IN PREPARATION

PLAN FOR BIG TIMES

ILLINOISANS AND IOWANS WILL GATHER DURING THE COMING MONTH

ILLINOIS

Stay-at-home Illinoisans, those who have had no opportunity to enjoy a mid-winter day in Los Angeles and its pretty suburban cities, are to experience the novelty of viewing a photoplay picture of their more fortunate relatives, friends and neighbors, assembled in holiday attire for the purpose of commemorating Lincoln's natal anniversary.

The idea of having a motion picture made of Illinois-Californians while they are mingling at their midwinter picnic and reunion on February 12—for the purpose of displaying it to the "folks back home," and other places throughout the world, originated with the officials of the Illinois Association of Southern California.

The arrangements necessary to carry the plan through were closed yesterday by President Frank W. Blair and Captain Michael D. Hurley, chairman of the society's board of control. These pictures will include the picnicking Illinoisans, individual groupings, the speakers, concert band and other interesting scenes. They are to be displayed in California and Illinois cities and elsewhere.

The members of the Illinois Society and visiting Illinoisans are to be the Lincoln Club. The program provides for the exclusive use of the Santa Monica municipal, free automobile rides about Santa Monica, an open air concert by the Santa Monica Municipal band, free bathing and fishing privileges and space for automobile parking.

Former Congressman W. A. Reeder, formerly of the Sixth Congressional district in North-western Kansas, has been selected for the speaker.

IOWA

Thousands of former residents of Iowa will gather at East Lake park Saturday, February 21, to attend the annual outing of the Iowa state society.

The officials of the society have completed arrangements for the picnic and are prepared to handle the largest crowd in the history of the organization.

The outing will take the form of an old-fashioned basket picnic and the day will be spent renewing acquaintances.

"Hawkeyes" from all parts of Southland California have signified their intention of participating in the reunion.

BRICK SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Architect Norman F. Marsh, 212 Broadway Central building, is preparing working plans for the two new brick school buildings to be erected at Glendale. They will conform to the present building in design and construction. The household arts building will be a two-story and basement structure 36x100 feet, with a central rear wing 70x70 feet. It will contain a cafeteria, lunch room, laundry, metal hammering room, and furnace room in the basement; two study halls, library, commercial department, offices and rooms for stenography, typewriting and musical courses in the first story, and domestic science, sewing, and art departments, office and model flat in the second story. The manual arts building will be one-story 17x180 feet, and will provide for wood-working, pattern making, machine shop, foundry, lecture room, forge and mechanical drafting. The buildings will be of brick construction with sand lime brick exterior facing concrete foundations, composition roofs, pine trim, pine and maple floors, lavatories, plumbing, electric wiring, heating and ventilating. The cost will be about $65,000.—Contractor and Builder.

ily approved by the business world and business men of all sections. Under Presidents Taft and Roosevelt, the Government launched wholesale law suits against business enterprises all over the country. In many instances the business interests were unable to understand what the real aim and policy of the Government was and what benefits to the people, if any, were sought to be accomplished. President Wilson has made his policy clear and it is this: that one group of men shall not control a certain business, and by interlocking directorates control several others. He has given the business world to understand what they may, and what they may not do, and there is now a very clear and definite understanding between the Government and the big business interests.

A few weeks ago President Wilson made the following significant statement:

"I gain the impression more and more from week to week that the business men of the country are sincerely desirous of conforming with the law, and it is very gratifying indeed to have occasion, as in this instance, to deal with them in complete frankness and to be able to show that all we desire is an opportunity to co-operate with them. So long as we are dealt with in this spirit we can help to build up the business of the country upon sound and permanent lines."

As a result of this understanding the Morgan group of financiers which is the dominating financial power of the country has withdrawn from active participation in about thirty of the great corporations and railroads of the country. This wise and statesman-like policy is now rapidly improving business in all sections of the country and instead of having unending legal battles between the Government and business interests, for which the public has been footing the bill, we are now entering upon an era of business peace and prosperity, and under the beneficial operation of the new currency bill, the small business man will have greater opportunity than he has ever enjoyed before. We now have statesmanship in the White House instead of Democracy and it is going to pay big dividends to the public.

THE TRUSTEES MEETING

EA'NY WEATHER PUTS THE STREET WORK BACK. Very LITTLE BUSINESS COMES UP

Owing to the inclement weather the work to be done on Brand boulevard and on other streets has been held up, so little business was transacted by the Board of Trustees at their regular meeting last Thursday evening.

The session was opened by the regular roll call and reading of minutes of previous meeting. All members were present, except Mr. Conrad.

A demand from T. Jones, amounting to $75.00, was referred to the finance committee, approved and warrant drawn for same. M. M. Eshelman appeared and asked that a permit be granted to erect a California house at the end of East Cypress street. This was granted.

President Bancroft stated that he had talked to L. C. Brand in regard to the installation of fire hydrants, and that Mr. Brand would agree to any reasonable proposition and that in any event the city would own the hydrants.

DON'T NEGLECT TO REGISTER

It is important that every legal voter in Tropico sees to it that he or she is registered, as the law is such that a new registration must now take place if you want to vote at the spring election or primary election to nominate candidates for office.

Tropico has several important matters coming up and needs the support of every qualified voter. You can register at the City Hall at any time. Don't neglect your duty.

Warning

The City Marshall has been instructed to arrest any minor boy or girl under 18 years of age found loitering on the streets after 8 o'clock p. m.

VARSITY WINS A HARD-FOUGHT GAME AND BRINGS BACK CONFIDENCE — LIGHTWEIGHTS WILL PLAY SATURDAY

TO HOLD ELECTION

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS TO GIVE A RECITAL — SCHOOL HOUSE PETTY THIEVES ARE APPREHENDED — STUDENT BODY ELECTION

VARSITY WINS

The varsity has evidently had a change of luck. They won from Pasadena last Saturday on the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. court. The game was featured by fast, clean playing. The teams were pretty evenly matched, making a close game. At the end of the first half Glendale was in the lead by a score of 15 to 5. In the second half the Pasadena five came back strong and they did succeed in tying the score along about the middle of the half. When they tied the score it was 18 to 18, then Glendale got a basket, which was soon followed by Pasadena. That made the tie again and there was only one minute to play. The old Glendale fight spirit came to the front then and Glendale made three more field baskets and one foul throw. The line-up and score per man was as follows: Glendale—Forwards, Gilmore 5, and Snively 4; center, Bidwell 2; guards, Litchfield and Nichols. The line-up was constant throughout the game. The Pasadena line-up was as follows: Forwards, Dowell and Conn; center, Bodin; guards, Hayes and Sayre. The final score was: Glendale, 27; Pasadena, 20.

The next game is with Santa Monica on the home grounds if it does not rain. Farner will be back in the game by Saturday. Santa Monica has not lost a game, but Glendale will give them a hard scrap.

The lightweights will play on the home grounds also next Saturday. They will play the Santa Monica intermediate team. This also promises to be a good game.

The musical classes are planning to give a recital soon which will be worth hearing. The Boys' Glee club will give half the program and the other half, which will be a cantata, will be given by the Girls' Glee club. These recitals are always good and when the date is set watch these columns for it.

The people who have been stealing in the high school have been caught and properly dealt with. It certainly is to be regretted that the school has such pupils. The articles and money that was stolen has been returned—that is, most of it. That which has not as yet will be soon.

The student body held an election of the following officers last Friday: Speaker of the assembly, which had two nominees, Gilbert Cowan and John Dunn. Then there was the election of the officers of the Spectator staff. The nominations for those offices are: Editor-in-chief, Cowan; assistant editor-in-chief, Dorothy Lee; business manager, Benjamin Nichols; athletic editor, Prof. Ferguson; senior editor, Alfred Knight; junior editor, Esther Sinclair; sophomore editor, I. S. Brown and Carol Wilford; advertising editor, Fred Nichols.

The results of this election appear in next week's Sentinel.

The track team, under Ehmke's able coaching, is improving rapidly. The mate up considerably better last year.

TROPICO IMPROVEMENTS

SOME IMPROVEMENTS FOR TROPICO ARE IN LINE FOR THE COMING YEAR

NO NEED TO WORRY

EVERY DAY SOMETHING PRESENTS ITSELF SHOWING PROSPERITY

Along with the proposed new street car line, the opening of Brand boulevard with paving and street lights and the numerous new blocks to be erected on that street and throughout the other business sections of Tropico, comes an unconfirmed report that the Southern Pacific Railway company will shortly expend some $40,000 in lowering their tracks at Tropico avenue. This means the building of a viaduct roadway and the lowering of tracks sufficient to allow trains to pass under. As there are some forty trains a day passing through Tropico besides switching, the change will be of great benefit to the automobilists, as Tropico avenue or Los Feliz road, is a popular route from Pasadena to the ocean, and hundreds of machines pass over the tracks daily, thus menacing life and property.

Los Angeles will immediately take steps to widen Los Feliz road.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT

THE POULTRY SHOW AT LOS ANGELES

NEVER a better show, the display was far superior to other years, the classes of birds supreme and the attendance fine.

As we walked down the long passageways of feathered finery our sight was given a continual treat, so that our fancy could not hold itself to the birds of our original choice, but we must fain admit the beauty, grace and stateliness of many other breeds ranging from diminutive bantams to the immense Light Brahmas, and having interspersed the large array of pigeons, the fancy guinea fowl, the fine display of hares and those beautiful feathered songsters, the canaries, until we felt we had been surfeited with a feast not to be forgotten, but which we could easily go through again to see new beauties.

The first thing to greet us was the large display of pigeons, as we entered the open door, long rows of them, some as big as a fine pullet of the chicken tribe, and so many varieties that space will hardly permit description. The blue bloods of this numerous family could easily be seen by the many blue silks attached to the cages, and the sight suggested the thought that the judges must have had a puzzling time to decide.

Roaming very slowly across the front northward we passed some fine specimens of excellent layers of the White Leghorn breed, where baskets of eggs hung to show what a fine layer can do, and adjoining them was a specimen display of the stalky White Minorcas, big birds that lay the large eggs of pure white. Going down the north aisle we passed rows of the Plymouth Rock breed and the specimens—they were fit for the garden of an emperor, the Partridge Rocks on one side and a long display of Barred Rocks on the other and below, so that instead of having the name of Plymouth Rock alley it should be Plymouth Rock boulevard.

Pausing before a big display of fixtures, appliances and materials for the poultry yards shown by the Poultry Breeders' Association, we admire the many conveniences adapted for the business, then look over the models and fixtures manufactured by the students at the University of the agricultural department, which are models of neatness, ability and simplicity in convenience for poultry work.

We pass a few steps into a large room and what a grand sight greets us in songsters, the canaries, veritably a splendid display, and we can easily see why prizes of blue ribbons were given here, the birds are worth going miles to see, their beauty is entrancing and the songs they sing are of full volume, tone and harmony, because they are optimists of the highest quality in thrilling praises continually.

A wonderful bird is shown in this room, the talking and acting parrot, valued at $1000, named Queen Polly, and which showed almost human intelligence in performing the innumerable tricks its genial owner, M. Wilson Cooper, caused it to do to the delight of admiring beholders, as it can whistle a part of "Havatha" far better in tone and precision than many men who know the tune by memory, in fact perfectly. It lays down as if dead on command to be covered with a handkerchief shroud, holds a flag in one claw over shoulder with a nobby cap on head, practically stands on its head and shoulders, blows her nose when handkerchief is applied, stands on toy horse with reins in beak, talks in telephone, speaks a vocabulary of over 300 words, among which are "Shame on you" when spanked in jest, and "You bad girl" when threatened with the whip. In fact it would take more space than can be allowed to tell all it does do, to the final kissing of any one it is requested to do.

Coming out of the canary-room and going through the next aisle we pass between two long rows of Wyandottes, in which are two famous birds of white of that breed and each valued at $1000. Then come the Polish and Cochins bantams, more Wyandottes, the Rhode Island Reds, a large array of White Leghorns and more Rhode Island Reds. Following these we see the Brown Leghorns, Langshans, Silver Spangled Hamburgs and a large array of Orpingtons in White, Buff and Black.

We now come to a big display of that great utility bird, the Minorca, and its representation was great in White, Buff and Black. Following these are the dark Brahmas, more Black Minorcas, Buff Laced and Golden Polish, Rhode Island Red bantams, Japanese Silky, bantams of different kinds and Buff Leghorns.

As we pass near the front of the show again we come to the large display of cups in an immense showcase and slowly pass to the next aisle, where more Buff and Black Orpingtons are on view, by the Guinea fowl and a large display of Sussex fowl. The Blue Andalusians come next, a fine display of white-faced Black Spanish, with the peculiar yet attractive appearance of white ear lobes reaching well down in front; the Anconas, more Buff Minorcas and the Silver Campines.

In the last class, the Silver Campines, nearly all the prizes worth considering were carried away by the birds of Irving N. Oliver, 647 East Acacia avenue, Tropic, as he won the Grand Challenge cup, three firsts, one third, one fourth and two special club ribbons—a fine showing.

Now we see a fine display of more White Minorcas, Indian Runner ducks, Annandale ducks, Sicilian Buttercups, more of the game class, Golden Campines, Cornish fowl, Silver Polish and Bronze turkeys, in which was a yearling Tom over 30 pounds by his appearance, a monster and stately bird.

We come to the Red Silks, Laken-velders, American Beauties, Buff and White Holland turkeys and finally the Belgian, New Zealand and Flemish hares.

An immense show well worth the time spent and more, a success financially and intrinsically, a power for great good and lasting benefit to the poultry people of this great state, for which all the credit should be given to Mr. Jos. Davis, the secretary of The Poultry Breeders' Association, and his co-workers, and it would be of great benefit to many other breeders to join that co-operative association where things are done as well as shown.

THE POULTRY BUSINESS DOES PAY

MANY instances could be given where men and women have made a fine success from a comparatively small amount of money to begin with, but this article is written about the experience of a boy who is 12 years of age.

He lives in the city of Los Angeles and we met him at the Poultry Show with his mother, and he stated they had a lot 50x150 feet, a full city lot. He bought four hens and a rooster two years ago of the White Leghorn breed, and last year he raised 70 pullets besides some cockerels from the four hens.

He bought all feed in small lots as required, and work, which many other boys and girls may profitably imitate. As stated above, many instances could be given where success has come to men and women in poultry raising, not only in small flocks, but in many cases where they have attained to 1000 and 2000 laying hens from a few hundred, and from which they make a clear one to two dollars per hen per year, which can be done by other poultry people, but it depends on the man or woman.

ADVERTISING

It is well known by examination of the columns of this weekly paper you use, you are firm believers in advertising; in fact, from a long experience in the past with merchants of other cities, I will say you believe in advertising to a greater extent than many merchants in cities much larger.

This cannot fail to bring the results desired, and for which you look, though it cannot come in a week or a month, it is the man or woman who keeps continually pounding at it, hammering facts right along into the public brain, keeping their name and business continually in full view, and giving good value and straight dealing to prove the truths of what they advertise, who win in the race of commercial life.

Consider for a few minutes the many ways the different merchants have had in advertising, then draw conclusions as to the best method, with long and valuable experience if you can.

The method of big years ago was to send the public to the market place with and have him make the announcements. Then came the newspaper, circulars of dodgers, window display, bill boards, fence advertising, which last includes trees, rocks, or any convenient place on which a small sign could be placed, besides some other less known methods, but through all of such ways to bring the store and goods to the eye and view of the public it is a solid fact that there is but one that has not only stood the test of years, but is gaining ground by leaps and bounds in the estimation of the most successful merchants, as well as by the reading public, and that is the newspaper.

It is being proved continually by sworn statements of circulation that the public are getting to be greater readers of newspapers every year, anyone can see the men, women and even children who want to see the news, who take the newspaper home, read it on the car, who look for it on the porch or lawn, and almost every man and woman want to see what has been printed, the women want to see the bargains, men, women and children are interested in given prices, especially for things in daily use.

Even if someone is not specially interested in the advertisements, he cannot help but see them as he reads the news, and they cast their photograph on his brain for the time, which, if continually repeated is likely to be lasting and bear fruit later.

The newspaper goes right in the homes is read generally by everyone in the family who can read, and all facts and new things are noted, special quotations of bargains are given special attention by the majority, and not least, the name of the store and the merchant being continually brought before their eyes is focused on their brain, retained in their memory, so that it becomes a household word, and when the goods are equal to the advertisement it soon becomes a public saying, "Oh, so-and-so's store is all right."

ON RECEIPT

The largest single shipment of raw silk ever received at a California port arrived in San Francisco on January 6 on the Pacific mail liner Korea and was turned over to the Southern Pacific company and delivered to its New York owners just four days later.

Several records were broken with the shipment. The cargo consisted of 2421 bales, weighing 220 pounds each, a total of over half a million pounds with a value of $2,500,000. The Korea crossed from Yokohama to San Francisco in thirteen days. The Southern Pacific got the cargo to New York from San Francisco in four days, fourteen hours and forty minutes, breaking its own record by one hour and one minute. Altogether, only eighteen days were consumed from the time the silk-laden Korea left Yokohama until the silk got into New York.

There were eleven baggage cars and a force of stevedores waiting at the Pacific Mail pier at 6:45 o'clock, when the Korea docked. By 7:30, the 2421 bales had been loaded in the cars and the clearances issued by the customs. By 9 o'clock the cargo was transferred to the cars and were on their way to the high value of the insurance.

ance and interest on the money invested, silk shipments are always expedited by the railroad and steamship companies. The Pacific Mail and Southern Pacific have been working for years to bring the silk shipments from the Orient through California on their way to the Atlantic.

San Diego, Jan.—The latest thing devised by patriotic San Diego citizens to impress upon the world the reason for holding open the San Diego Exposition for the entire year of 1915 is the Straw Hat Club. Members of this unique organization will obligate themselves to wear while in San Diego, no other kind of hat except those made of straw, or fiber, or other light straw materials, during every day of 1915. And not only will they pledge themselves to do this, but in signing the membership roll of the Straw Hat Club they will incur a penalty in the form of a fine of $100 for each and every violation of their obligation.

This penalty is hardly deemed necessary in the case of such well known San Diegans as former Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, Lyman J. Gage, Al. G. Spaulding, sporting goods magnate, H. H. Timkin, roller bearing millionaire, John D. Spreckles, sugar king, Admiral Uriel Sebree and H. H. Manney, U. S. N., retired, Joseph W. Sefton, Jr., paperbox manufacturer, E. W. Scripps, millionaire newspaper publisher, Col. D. C. Collier, president, and H. O. Davis, Director General, of the San Diego Exposition, and U. S. Grant, Jr., oldest son of the ex-President, all of whom make San Diego their home.

The membership of the Straw Hat Club will not be limited to millionaires, however, and the only qualification necessary to membership is the possession of a straw hat and the courage to wear it in public during the months that are called winter months, but which, in San Diego, are a succession of balmy days, like the Maydays of elsewhere.

The Straw Hat Club will have its headquarters on the San Diego Exposition grounds throughout 1915, and open house will be kept for strangers within the gates who will be willing to take the obligation, and conform to the rule of the club.

Men and women bring troubles in their own lives by unsanitary methods, and general bad management in their poultry yards, then perpetuate the troubles by wrong breeding after their poor methods have wrought the havoc.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss," and a wandering hen is generally a poor producer. Drone, drool, droon, drivel, droll, all words of similar import, but, when applied to poultry or the management, proof is at hand that a severe culling is needed in the stock or working force, for drones are parasites on the workers, and a loss to productivity.

An honest man is known by his actions, but a useless hen can be found in non-production.
